

Local Lines.

[From Saturday's Daily.]

The firm of Gus Ellis & Co. present a new advertisement through our columns.

Rovis are again getting in condition that Maricopa teams make their trips in the usual time.

Gunning in the vicinity of town is reported first-class. Quail and doves are to be found in great abundance.

Judge Tavel is again able to be on the street, but shows in a very decided way the effects of his late indisposition.

There are now, we are told, two or three mining enterprises which will prove tributary to our town, soon to be opened up in real earnest.

The arrival of some heavy New York mining men, now staying in a few days. We believe that they are interested in the Cave Creek country.

Mr. P. Brix has made a very considerable extension to the rear of his already large saloon. He opens & Co. store room in undergoing repairs and improvements under the careful management of Mr. Polhemus.

A petition for the pardon of Richard Thompson, now serving sentence in the penitentiary at Yuma for robbery, is being circulated to day and signed by all the principal business men of the town.

Several of our citizens are to be seen sliding on the back way lead up the Grand Canal with pick and shovel. Has the "Lima Kids" district any attractions for them? They are not gone long generally and are never heard to mention their absence from town.

[From Monday's Daily.] A license of $25.00 has been imposed on the game of stud poker, and the smaller games are closed out.

The M. E. Church building will be plastered this week, and a service will be omitted there, on this account, for a couple of weeks.

An unusually large number of Indians were airing themselves on our streets yesterday, some of them dressed in summer garments.

Mr. Mullen, of Verde, is visiting Phoenix. He reports creating a flourishing in that vicinity—plenty fat cattle, good grass, and the mining industry flourishing.

Miss Mattie Tucker, we hear, will go to the legislature as clerk. Miss Tucker is a good type, has much business experience, and is well qualified for the position.

A miner from the Magazine District says he has seldom seen a more promising mining locality. He thinks one of the best camps in the Territory will spring up there in the near future.

Nelson Rogers, son of Deputy Sheriff Rogers, received a slight injury in the face, a few days ago, from the accidental fall of some powder. Only the small quantity of powder prevented serious results.

A Spaniard last night tried to run the cold bluff on our officers and citizens by standing with his hand on his pistol pocket and swearing that he would not be arrested. He was put into the cooler to think over the matter.

The adobe wall opposite the Herald office is being removed preparatory to the erection of an entrance to the corral opposite, which, we believe, is to be occupied by Messrs. Demerbaux and Sanders as a teamsters' corral.

Billy Blankenship, who was injured by the kick of a horse, last week, didn't kick the bucket, but is kicking around on our streets pretty lively. It is evident that Billy was not born to be drowned, killed by stage robbers, or kicked to death.

[From Thursday's Daily.] Gen. Crook is down with malarial fever.

Phoenix is brightening up in the way of business very considerably.

"The melancholy days have come, The saddest of the year." Song of retiring office workers.

What delightful weather! Is the exclamation on the lips of everyone, these balmy days.

Our lumber men are kept busy supplying the demand for building material now days.

Buy your holiday goods at Paul Ruben's, the best assorted stock in town at reasonable figures.

Paymaster Wittich and escort arrived from Ft. McDowell this afternoon and stop over till tomorrow, before proceeding to northern posts.

Mr. Richard Gartner, of St. Louis, will arrive here tomorrow to take a situation in Mr. J. H. McNeill's harness shop. He is said to be a very fine workman.

Plasterers began work on the outside of Goldman & Co's store, this morning. The new dress will add very much to the external appearance of their place of business.

Some of the typos in the office of our contemporary had a race with the scribe of that institution today, and they said out of forty. Time, 55 minutes.

Herr Hans von Zechusen, who has been or is at work on a ranch in the vicinity of Phoenix, will hear of matters of interest to him by addressing the German Consul at San Francisco, Adolph Rosenhalm.

Mr. Geo. F. Coats presents his business this month through the columns of the Herald. Those preparing for the holidays should notice his advertisements carefully. He probably has many articles that you may want.

As will be seen by the circular letter of the business manager of the Territorial Fish Commissioners there will be a large quantity of carp arrive at Yuma are long for free distribution. Get your ponds ready and make your application at once.

Our genial friend, C. L. Jones, has put up a neat harness shop on the south side of Washington street, across from the postoffice, and sends his card to the public in our columns, this month. Call on him with business in his line, and you will be well satisfied.

Gus Ellis & Co. come to the front once more with a presentation of their extensive business in the advertising columns of the Herald. Look up their ad and see what they have to say to you, and you will agree that your time was well spent reading an advertisement.

Free Fish.

YUMA, A. T., Nov. 29, 1933.

EDITOR SENTINEL:

Sir—I have just received notice from Prof. Baird, U. S. Commissioner of Fish and Fisheries, that he will dispatch from Washington early in January next, a carload of young carp and will supply all applicants who are prepared to receive and care for them. All who desire to take advantage of this distribution should make application at once, either to Prof. S. P. Baird, Washington D. C., or to me at Yuma, A. T., giving description of ponds or waters other than ponds artificially constructed, which they propose to utilize in the culture of the fish, and the station where they will be prepared to receive the fry. Notice will be sent of the time when the fish car may be expected, to all who apply to me. Application should reach me by December 15th, at latest.

J. H. TAGGART, Business Manager of Arizona Fish Commission.

Sad Death.

Yesterday evening, an accident occurred at the crossing of Salt River, resulting in the death of Sgt. James C. Traynor, of Company E, 1st Infantry, U. S. A. Companies C and E have been stationed at Clifton and are now en route, the former to Fort Verde, the latter to Fort McDowell. At the crossing of the river the deceased attempted to climb into a moving wagon, and for that purpose put his foot upon the brake and caught one of the bows with his hand. The bow was broken and failed to support his weight and he fell to the ground and the wheel of the heavily loaded wagon passed over his head, crushing the skull. Death was probably instantaneous.

Sgt. Traynor was about 42 years of age, a native of County Monaghan, Ireland, and had served over twenty years in the United States Army, having gone through the Civil War in the service of his adopted country. His Company he over today for his burial with the usual military honors, and will proceed to Ft. McDowell.

A Herald reporter visited the camp of the company near the city cemetery and saw the remains of the poor soldier as they lay in the lonely tent with only the measured tread of the sentinel to break the pensive silence that was falling upon the camp as the night came down. The unsteady sun threw fitting gleams upon the marble shaft-pointing heavenward and marking the resting place of the dead. The shadows of the crosses lengthened and fell Eastward and, let us hope, consecrated the ground where his comrades leave him. A solitary, reverberating sun-set gun startled the silent reverie and told that the day was done. A moment later the roll of a drum and the notes of a rifle sounded Retreat, but they failed to arouse the sergeant who, for more than twenty long years had not failed before to obey its summons.

LATER—Sgt. Traynor was buried this afternoon at 2 o'clock, with the services of the Episcopal church, one of the officers conducting. A parting volley closed the sad duty which his comrades in arms have been called upon to perform.

TERRITORIAL TWIGS.

Secretary Van Arman has returned to Prescott from Washington, where he went on business connected with the Prescott branch railroad and matters of general interest to the Territory.

A teamster named Summers, while intoxicated, fell over a bank at Charleston and broke his neck.

The latest reports from Sacaton say that an investigation by the new agent has shown the accounts of Wheeler to have been correctly kept and balanced, and that he was not behind with the government. We presume Mr. Jackson will make the results of his investigation public in due course of time and if they exonerate Mr. Wheeler, the Enterprise will be among the first to do the latter justice by publication of the facts.—Enterprise.

The editor of the Enterprise has three hundred dollars worth of vindication for his character as to honor, veracity and pugnacity. He wants some man to take one hundred of the money and swear that it has not some one of these virtues. What he desires to do then we can't make out exactly.

Pioneer is reported as one of the liveliest citizens in the Territory.

Mr. Jos. Collingwood of Florence, a well known pioneer of the Territory, and for a number of years a successful merchant of Florence, is reported by the Enterprise as being fatally ill.

Bro. Bach of the Miner has struck it rich at last. He has bought a mine which we suppose means that he proposes to keep the Miner's head above water.

Prescott is agitated over the question of where to hold the session of the Legislature. Our man wants it in the city hall and others want it in a private building. Any rent to pay?

Courier—Major Johnston, Paymaster U. S. A., is under orders to proceed East and will, with his family, leave here shortly. The Tip Top company's 10-stamp mill is now running 12 out of every 24 hours, crushing ore from their mine, which is said to be looking well. The Tiger mine, under Mr. B. T. Riggs' management, looks very promising.

The Collier claim is opened by a drift; near its western boundary a large body of ore was discovered which is steadily increasing. Between 20 and 30 tons of rich ore are every day hoisted to the surface and the company will, early next spring, start their 10-stamp mill. Workmen in the mine have purchased shares and are anxious to buy more. The feeling in the camp is very buoyant.

INDIAN SUMMER.

After October's biting frost it seems that summer days return. The partidge whistles.

A noisy vey to amuse in the first; And for a while the sun reviveth his beam. It is an autumn that of springtime dream. The warm breeze comes again, and softly stirs.

The slight tree-tops and the empty burrs Which, loosened, drop into the ice-fogged streams. Ah! dear, this tardy sunshine and the heat! So shall we find—our summer being past—And how-foot with us—for a little breath So fair a country, such a genial air; And shall forget our woes, and unaware Step over to the border-land of death!
